country for outstanding sales and service. Travel Impressions is an American Express Travel Company. With over $36 million in revenue in 2007, they are one of the top suppliers of travel in the country.

Dream Makers Vacation Services is one of the fastest growing leisure travel agencies in the United States. Amy McHugh, co-owner and Sales Manager for Dream Makers, says, "Dream Makers Vacation Services has flourished because we focus on our clients needs. To do that, you have to know your client. We take the time to get to know the client so that we are sending them to the right resort in the right room. Our clients keep coming back because they know we have relationships with the resorts that allow us in many cases, to get our clients extra perks."

When asked why someone would book with a travel agent versus booking on Expedia or another online booking site, Amy responds, "Many travelers make their vacation plans through a travel agent. Using a qualified agent can often give you preferred pricing, special attention during all stages of travel and additional perks and amenities versus if you made your vacation plans on your own. This type of expertise separates Dream Makers Vacation Services from the rest of the travel industry."

"We have many clients come to us after having a bad experience with other online booking sites. They've realized that they aren't paying more for a travel agent, yet they are getting the service that these online booking engines can't provide. In fact, many times they are able to travel for less using a travel agent because we recommend the right resort at the right time of year. Our experience with the resorts allows us to match people to the resort they want so that they have a great experience based on their needs. "

Dream Makers Vacation Services was established in the memory of Ann Grubbs, Amy's mother, who was one of the top Luxury Cruise Agents in the country before her death. Amy has followed in her mother's footsteps and has developed Dream Makers Vacation Services into one of the top travel agencies in the country by providing outstanding personalized service to her clients. Dream Makers Vacation Services is based in Lancaster, PA and specializes in Caribbean, Mexico, and European vacations. They are expert Destination Wedding and family vacation planners.

Amy McHugh says, "We will make all your travel dreams come true" and it appears they are for many Travel Impressions travelers.
